“Arthropod Adaptations” Butterfly Pavilion Visit Activity

Draw a picture of an animal with each adaptation. There could be more than one animal choice for each adaptation.

I can use my stinger for defense or to kill my prey.	My coloration warns other animals to stay away from me.	I roll up or coil to defend myself.
The shape of my body helps me hide.	I can use my body hairs both to sense prey and as a defense.	My coloration helps me hide.
I secrete (give off) a foul-smelling liquid to repel predators.	I use my fangs to defend myself or to kill my prey.	My stinging tentacles help me catch my food.
